

WORLD CHAMPIONS—A team of lightweight horses, weighing 2985 pounds, established a new world record in the lightweight division of the Upper Peninsula State Fair horse pulling contest Friday despite a driving rain. The team pulled a load of 3575 pounds the measured distance of 27½ feet. The former record was 3550 pounds, held by another team owned by Charles Roehl and Son and set at Hillsdale, Michigan. The Press photographer had to take this picture of the team in action from the rear to avoid distracting the horses.

Entire Change Of Program Closes State Fair Sunday

Politics Perks Up As Lansing Lawgivers Meet

Touchy Issues Await State Legislators

LANSING —(AP)—The normal mid-summer doldrums on the political scene face a shattering onslaught next week.

The legislature returns for a special session and the occasion has been seized for at least two other meetings which may produce political news.

The tax study committee, which is seeking a painless way of balancing the state budget, will meet. It is just beginning its study and has organized a citizens' advisory group.

Perhaps immediate political news will be produced by the new Republican program committee, scheduled to gather for its first meeting on Tuesday.

People Watching

This committee, a new attempt to provide central leadership for the party, is made up of six members each of the central committee, the House and the Senate and the seven Republican members of the administrative board.

There will be a lot of people watching to see what this group does. Their avowed purpose is to come up with a unified program on which the party can conduct an all-out campaign in 1952.

But the main attraction will still be the legislature itself.

The lawmakers were originally

Young Kalamazoo Vandals Nabbed; School Is Hideout

KALAMAZOO —(AP)—Police report they have rounded up a juvenile gang here which holed up in a Vine Street school classroom, using it as a headquarters for vandalism on other schools.

Dr. Loy Norrix, superintendent of schools, said the roundup of teenage gang members was expected to halt a wave of summer vacation vandalism in the schools.

Police captured the youths after watching them climb up a fire escape under cover of darkness. A large hole had been cut in one of the fourth floor walls, apparently for a quick getaway—gangland style—in event of a raid.

Embassy Costs Worry Britain

LONDON —(AP)—An economy-minded parliamentary committee asked today whether some of Britain's embassies abroad couldn't do without their spit-and-polish doormen, some of whom get more money than junior diplomats stationed in London.

The House of Commons' select committee on estimates—parliamentary watchdog over expenditures—published the results of its investigation into the high cost of running the country's far-flung embassies.

The report points an accusing finger at the British embassy doorman in Buenos Aires and other like places who gets £5 (£14) weekly pay plus £22 (£63) in special overseas allowance—well above the level of some of his superiors back home.

The idea of the extra overseas pay has been that it is essential for the empire's representatives abroad—even down to the doorman—must keep up the traditional stiff-shirted appearances of the good old days.

The report points out that in 1939 the entire foreign service cost £1,893,418 (£7,611,540.36 at the 1939 rate of $4.02 to the pound). In 1952 the bill is expected to be £38,468,000 ($107,710,400 at the present rate of $2.80 to the pound).

Laporte, Ind., Woman Made Widow Twice By Lightning Bolt

LAPORTE, Ind. —(AP)—A St. Joseph county woman has been widowed by a lightning bolt for the second time in six years.

Mrs. Maxine Johnson's second husband, Keith Kent Johnson, 26-year-old hot rod race driver, was killed by lightning last night on the shore of Hudson lake near LaPorte.

Her first husband, Walter James, was killed by lightning June 14, 1945, while working on his farm near Kalamazoo, Mich.

The Johnsons lived on Route 5, South Bend.

Five Macomb Queens

MT. CLEMENS —(AP)—Not one queen but five will rule over the Macomb county "Frontier Days" celebration this weekend. The judges said all five finalists wanted to be queen so much they couldn't pick just one. So the Frontier queens will be Mrs. Mary Crabbe, 72; Mrs. Emma Leesch, 74; Mrs. Emma Goble, 79; Mrs. Minnie America Lytle, 75, and Augusta Wolmann, 84.

Russia Wants To Talk Lend-Lease With U. S.

By PHIL CLARKE

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The United States has arranged a meeting of Russian and American experts here next Tuesday to take another look at Russia's six-year-old $11,000,000,000 lend-lease bill.

The meeting was Moscow's idea. Without advance warning, the state department said yesterday, a Soviet embassy translator popped into a department official's office last Wednesday and announced that Moscow wants to talk lend-lease again.

Half Billion Apart
The translator, one Myschkov, has a habit of showing up unannounced, the department said. This time he walked into the office of Department Official George Truesdell.

Truesdell said Myschkov did the same thing several times before when he wanted to talk with various U. S. officials connected with lend-lease. Usually foreign representatives telephone the department in advance of any official call.

Truesdell said Myschkov ignored a question whether Russia had anything new or "constructive" to offer in way of settling the dead-locked lend-lease account. Standing stiffly at attention, the Russian announced simply that a new meeting of lend-lease experts was requested.

Nearly five years of on-again, off-again talks were broken off last May 7 with the two sides still more than half a billion dollars apart on a settlement.

Ships Stuck In Ice

The U. S. had offered to settle the account for $600,000,000, but Russia refused to offer more than $240,000,000. Not enough, said the U. S.

Furthermore, Russia bluntly declined to consider returning to the U. S. 672 lend-lease naval ships, including 84 merchant vessels, 556 small naval craft and 30 military water craft such as barges and tankers.

Russia said the U. S. doesn't need the ships, anyway. Included are two icebreakers which Russia said last January were stuck fast in the ice.

Senate May Restore Billion Dollar Cut In Foreign Aid Bill

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The House last night passed and sent to the Senate a $7,498,750,000 foreign aid bill. This was $1,001,250,000 less than President Truman had asked for helping friendly nations resist Communism.

Administration leaders looked to the Senate to restore at least a part of the billion-dollar cut. They were particularly hopeful of recapturing an unexpected last-minute slice of $350,000,000 in economic aid for western Europe. That cut was pushed through by a coalition of Republicans and southern Democrats shortly before the bill passed last night by a vote of 260 to 101.

The bill as it cleared the House authorizes—subject to appropriations later—these allotments:

Europe: $5,028,000,000 in military aid and $985,000,000 in economic aid, a cut of $265,000,000 in military and $690,000,000 in economic aid.

Near East and Africa: $415,000,000 in military aid, no reduction, and $175,000,000 in economic aid, a boost of $50,000,000 for rehabilitation of Jewish refugees.

Asia and the Pacific: $530,000,000 in military aid, a $25,000,000 cut; $237,500,000 in economic aid, a $25,000,000 cut, and $11,250,000 for Korean rehabilitation, a cut of $101,250,000.

American Republics: $40,000,000 in military aid and $22,000,000 in economic and technical aid. No cuts.

Expansion of Strategic Materials Development: $53,000,000 for the whole program instead of that amount for western Europe mainly.

Legless Veteran New Head Of DAV

MILWAUKEE —(AP)—Ewing W. Mays of Little Rock, Ark., is the new national commander of the Disabled American Veterans.

Mays, who lost both legs in World War II while fighting in Italy, succeeds Boniface R. Maile of Detroit. He was selected yesterday as the DAV ended its 30th National convention.

Boston was chosen for the 1952 convention.

Those named to the executive committee included Gordon F. Forrell, Mt. Clemens, Mich., who will represent district eight.

Dope Peddler Looks Like Sweet Old Lady

NEW YORK —(AP)—She looked "like a sweet old lady" police said, but the 60-year-old former nurse peddled dope along Broadway, sometimes netting $2,000-a-day "pushing heroin."

The white-haired widow, Mrs. Vera Wolf, was held in $10,000 bail yesterday on narcotics charges after she was trapped by a woman detective who telephoned her and made an appointment to buy some drugs.

Car Races And Song Harmony Final Features

Exhibits And Midway Stay For Windup

The 18th exposition of the Upper Peninsula State Fair will be concluded tomorrow with an entire change of program. The afternoon program features sprint stock car races, seven events with a 25 lap feature and prize money of $1,600. In the evening a barbershop quartet concert will be presented.

Rain Cancels Show

The stock car qualifying trials are scheduled for 1:30 p. m. and the races will begin at 2:30. Nationally famous drivers are entered in the competition as well as three local entries.

Tonight the final performance of the brilliant Barnes Carruthers revue, "Stars on Parade," will be presented at the grandstand. Last night's performance was cancelled because of rain and a capacity crowd is expected this evening. The show will begin at 8:30 and will include all of the spectacular outdoor acts as well as the colorful dancing and musical revue.

Barbershop Concert

The barbershop concert Sunday evening has been arranged by the Marquette county chapter of the Society for Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America. The Marquette county chapter will present a 40-voice male chorus and two quartets. Quartets from Marinette and Sault Ste. Marie and an octet from Escanaba will be included on the program which features the famed Madison Cardinals quartet. The Cardinals recently returned from a USO tour in Alaska where they entertained American servicemen in many military camps.

All of the exhibits will be on display throughout Sunday, final day of the fair, and the midway rides and shows will continue in operation all day and evening.

There will be a gate charge all day Sunday.

Red Quiz Kids Cheer McCloy

BERLIN —(AP)—U. S. High Commissioner John J. McCloy played answer man for a group of visiting East German quiz kids yesterday and won cheers for his explanations of western policy.

The Communist-infiltrated youths ran into McCloy when they slipped away from East Berlin's giant Red peace festival for a look at the American radio station (RIAS) in Democratic West Berlin.

Blue-shirted youngsters—numbering several hundreds—bombed the American leader with political questions which he spent two hours answering.

West German parliament member Peter Helles who was also present asked them if Gen. Vassily Chukov, head of the Soviet control commission, would undergo the same type of questioning. "No!" they roared in reply.

In answer to numerous questions about German unity, McCloy said:

"I have a real message of hope for you. x x x we intend to do everything we can to restore freedom not only to one part of Germany but to all of it. So keep your faith."

Chinese Purge Hits Foreigners

By FRED HAMPSON

HONG KONG —(AP)—Red China for the first time has snared non-Chinese in its blood purge net, sentencing two foreigners to death for allegedly plotting to kill Communist leader Mao Tze-Tung last fall.

It remains to be seen whether Peiping will carry out sentence of the two, an Italian and a Japanese. The Peiping radio yesterday denounced them as "spies" for the United States.

But it caused fears among observers here that this means a new turn in Peiping's campaign against foreigners and that the purge by execution squads may be extended to non-Chinese.

The state department in Washington and the U. S. military attaché on Formosa immediately denied the charge. The Red radio said the attaché, Col. David D. Barrett, hired the "spies" while attached in Peiping.

"I never at any time," said Barrett at Taipei, Formosa "either on my own initiative or on orders of any agency of the United States government ever attempted to assassinate or contrive the assassination of anyone."

University Hospital Patient Jumps Six Floors To His Death

ANN ARBOR, Mich. —(AP)—A patient who had been under treatment for an emotional disturbance at University hospital last night jumped six floors to his death.

Orin Kingsley, 61, of Jackson Mich., had been in the hospital since July 25 and underwent a thyroid operation Aug. 14.

Hospital authorities said Kingsley had some evening visitors. Afterwards he went to a darkened sunporch and leaped from a third-floor window. He plunged into an ambulance entrance well three stories below ground level.

Russian Exiles Plan Anti-Kremlin Moves

MUNICH, Germany —(AP)—Alexander F. Kerensky, last non-Communist premier of Russia, is conferring secretly with refugee groups to plan an anti-Kremlin campaign.

He checked out of his Munich hotel yesterday and left for a secret rendezvous with bands of Russian exiles to co-ordinate anti-Communist strategy.

Kerensky, who now lives in the United States, took over the Russian government after the overthrow of the tsar and ruled until the Bolshevik revolution. He is head of the anti-Communist league of fighters for the freedom of the Russian people.

Rare Beryllium Ore Discovered In Korea

KUMHWA, Korea —(AP)—Ore containing beryllium, a rare metal of atomic energy value, was found in North Korea recently by American soldiers. It was in sacks with Russian markings.

It was not disclosed how the beryllium was identified.

The sacked ore was discovered in a Korean truck near this town recently wrested from the Communists. North Korean civilians said the ore came from Panok tungsten mines five miles from here.

Trouble-Shooters Get Down To Brass Tacks On Korea Buffer Zone

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN

MUNSAN, Korea —(AP)—Allies and Reds got down to brass tacks today as the four-man armistice subcommittee met on the buffer zone issue for the second straight time in an atmosphere of friendly informality.

The talks are being held strictly off-the-record and no official report of progress was made.

Huddled Over Maps

But a pooled dispatch from Kaesong said the four generals—two American, one North Korean and one Chinese—were seen huddled over a map spread out on a conference table. They pointed to it as they talked. And they seemed to be speaking informally, and not from prepared statements.

After a lengthy session in hot and sweltering Kaesong they adjourned. They will meet again at 11 a. m. tomorrow (8 p. m. Saturday, EST). That indicated the four trouble-shooters did not reach a final solution today on where the buffer zone should be placed.

Once more the sound of laughter coming from the conference room spurred hope of progress.

Radio Hints Progress

Peiping radio yesterday dropped a hint of progress in a broadcast just before the negotiators met. The Red radio, monitored in Tokyo, said the subcommittee Thursday "took the first step toward finding a solution to the issue deadlocking the truce talks."

What that step was, Peiping didn't say.

The subcommittee began today's session at 11 a. m. Before they met, liaison officers of the two sides took over the conference room and continued their debate on the neutrality of Kaesong. The liaison groups will meet again tomorrow. Allied members refused to discuss what happened today.

The subcommittee again met around one of the smaller tables in the conference room. Observed from outside, the envoys appeared comfortable and relaxed as they leaned back in arm chairs.

The Miami weather bureau's last report from the island at 6 p. m. (EST) said rain squalls, the usual prelude to hurricane winds, were pelting the Jamaican coast. The central eye of the storm is believed to have passed Kingston about 10:30 p. m.

Six More American Communist Leaders Rounded Up By FBI

By KARL R. BAUMAN

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The FBI rounded up six more Communist leaders yesterday and charged them with plotting to overthrow the government by force.

The arrests were the fourth round in the big hunt for Communists which began after a supreme court decision last June upheld the conviction of 11 top Reds charged with violating the Smith act.

That law makes it a crime to teach or advocate the forcible overthrow of the government. The arrests, all involving men now or formerly from the Pennsylvania-West Virginia area, brought to 46 the number of Communists accused under the act since the supreme court decision. Four of these have not yet been found. And four of the convicted 11 top leaders jumped bail instead of surrendering to begin serving their terms. They are being sought.

Steven Nelson, 47, described by the FBI as schooled in espionage and sabotage in Moscow, was among those seized in the latest roundup.

FBI agents pounced upon the six in scattered places. Nelson, whose home is in Pittsburgh, was arrested in Philadelphia. James Hulse Dolsen, 65, western Pennsylvania representative of the Daily Worker, Communist news-

Bad Hurricane Pelts Jamaica

MIAMI, Fla. —(AP)—Navy planes took off at dawn today to pick up the trail of the hurricane that apparently struck overnight at the British West Indies island of Jamaica.

Communication with Kingston, the Jamaican capital city of 120,000 population, was lost early last night when the airport and radio tower were evacuated.

All efforts early today to learn how the city and the outlying banana and sugar cane lands withstood the 120-mile-an-hour punch of the storm were fruitless.

The Miami weather bureau's last report from the island at 6 p. m. (EST) said rain squalls, the usual prelude to hurricane winds, were pelting the Jamaican coast. The central eye of the storm is believed to have passed Kingston about 10:30 p. m.

New Policy Lets Wages Rise And Fall With Living Costs

By HAROLD W. WARD

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The government has adopted, temporarily at least, a general policy of allowing wages to rise and fall with living costs.

In approving the policy yesterday, economic stabilizer Eric Johnston said it was "in line with the overall stabilization objective of keeping the American economy in balance."

However, Johnston said the whole stabilization program would have to be reviewed next spring. He okayed the new policy, proposed by the Wage Stabilization Board, until March 1, 1952.

In the meantime, the board will approve wage increases granted by employers to offset the rise in living costs. Roughly, they have risen 11 per cent since January, 1950 and about two per cent since the wage-price freeze of last Jan. 25.

The new policy supplements but does not change a separate regulation under which employers may grant increases of 10 per cent over January, 1950 levels without coming to the board for approval.

Under the cost of living policy workers may get a pay boost in these three ways:

1. If they were working under a contract with an escalator clause in effect before the Jan. 25 wage freeze. (Under such a clause, pay adjustments are usually made every three months at the rate of one cent an hour for each rise of fall of 1.14 points in the government price index. A new one will be out next week, measuring prices as of July 15.) About 4,900,000 workers already are under some form of escalator clause, including most of the railroad and auto industries.

2. If the employer and union want to gear their pay rates in the future to such an index, the board will approve the contract provisions.

3. If employers and unions want to make long-term contracts without such a binding clause, they may open their agreements every six months, take a look at what has happened to living costs and make adjustments limited to those fluctuations. The board would approve that arrangement.

World's Record Set At Fair For Lightweight Horse Pulling Teams

A new world's record for lightweight horses was established in Escanaba yesterday at the Upper Peninsula State Fair horse pulling contest by a team owned by Charles Roehl and Son of Smiths Creek, Michigan. The team pulled a load of 3575 pounds through the 27 1/2 foot measured distance. The former record was 3550 pounds set at Hillsdale, Michigan by another team owned by Charles Roehl and Son.

The lightweight contest was conducted in a driving rain but footing was excellent on the turf course. A crowd of approximately 1500 persons witnessed the event.

Escanaba Alleys To Receive DDT Spray With Lilac Flavor

The odor of lilacs will return to Escanaba alleys next week—but it will not be spring.

Robert Clayton, superintendent of the city's parks and forestry department, says the lilac odor will be added to DDT spray solution. Spraying will start Monday in the second application this season to control flies and mosquitoes.

The lilac odor is being used because there were some complaints that DDT has a disagreeable smell. The additional cost to bring lilac perfume to the alleys is small, Clayton said.

Two thousand five hundred gallons of DDT spray in weak solution will be used and the application, this year, will be completed in two and one-half days. One pint of DDT to 100 gallons of water will be used, a solution affecting only flies and mosquitoes, Clayton said.

Cottage Sites Are In Demand

Advice Given On Selecting Spots

The vacation season again is spurring a number of persons to acquire a cottage building site of their own.

The conservation department does not recommend purchasing a site on any one particular lake in preference to others, but it is suggesting to inquirers important points which should be considered in choosing a lot.

Lakes with the combination of good fishing water and a good bathing beach are most sought after and least numerous because the two types of recreational use usually means different lake conditions. However many persons easily find another way of satisfying both requirements by locating the cottage on an ideal bathing lake which is but a short distance from good fishing water. Still another popular variation is locating on a good bathing lake which is centrally located and surrounded by several good fishing lakes. When the person has decided what his recreational demands are in terms of lake character and location, then a closer appraisal of lot sites is in order.

Check the character and depth of the water and the stability of the lake level, possible inlet and outlet to the lake, and whether or not a legal lake level ever has been set. In examining plat restrictions and title records, find out whether the lot gives exclusive riparian rights or whether the property is subject to certain public rights. Should riparian rights be restricted, find out if there is other reasonable access for boating, bathing, and fishing. Investigate to determine if good well water is available at reasonable depth and that the land is high enough above the lake level to allow installation of septic tank and sewage disposal field.

Sgt. James Ward Home From Korea

NAHMA — Sgt. James Ward has returned from Korea where he has served with the U. S. Army for the past eleven months. He is spending his 30 day furlough here with his mother, Mrs. Martha Ward. He will get his further assignment when he reports to Ft. Sheridan, Ill., after his furlough.

Mrs. Schwartz, Hostess
Mrs. John Schwartz, Jr., entertained at her home on Tuesday afternoon and evening. Those present were Mrs. Francis Douville and daughter Ann Louise of Houghton, Mrs. Elroy Zimmerman and daughter Judy of Gladstone, Mrs. Gerald Bennette and children, Geraldine, Sharon and Dennis of Sault Ste. Marie, Mrs. Emil LeBrasseur and Dicky LeBrasseur of Nahma.

Lawn Social a Success
WILSON—The lawn social given for the benefit of the Zion Episcopal church, held at the Bagley home Sunday from 3 p. m. to 9 p. m., was a success socially and financially. A table with gay little bouquets of summer flowers made the attractive lawn a perfect setting for an afternoon social. Colored lights strung around the outer edge of the yard made a pretty picture for the guests, who chose to come after sunset and enjoy the refreshments.

Grand Haven Volunteers Build $100,000 School In One Year

GRAND HAVEN, Mich.—(AP)—The Dutch have a reputation for thriftiness that is exceeded only by the Scots.

They also have reputation for hard work, deep religious feeling, and community improvement.

And all of these are combined in a new project now nearing completion here.

For nearly a year, more than 100 volunteers have been at work, helping which will serve families of Reformed and Christian Reformed faiths. To build a new Christian school some of the workers have contributed more than 300 hours of their time. Others have helped with materials and supplies.

Ready In December
The building, which will serve children from the kindergarten through the ninth grade, will have eight rooms. It is of modern design, of cinderblock and brick veneer construction, with porcelain steel panels inside and outside.

If done by a regular contractor, the workers estimate, the building would have cost upwards of $100,000. But with the help and supplies, the total cost will run between $65,000 and $70,000.

What's more, by the time the children move into the school in September, the building will be all paid for.

Before work ever started, the parochial school board had $10,000 in its building fund. Then it staged a campaign among the congregations of the six churches whose children the school will serve.

Old Building Sold
Next, the board arranged to sell its 32-year-old school building, which had been outgrown—to a printing concern for $20,000. But first, the old building had to be remodeled. Volunteers did that, too.

The whole project got started, lumber dealer Louis Rycenga explained, when it became obvious two years ago that the old building was no longer adequate to hold the swelling school population.

A survey of the various congregations showed carpenters, a plumber, an electrician, and various other workers who would donate their time.

It then was decided, he says, to go ahead on a "build it ourselves" basis. Only three men were employed regularly, including supervising contractor Lou Wezeman and all three of these also have donated time.

Porcelain Tile Used
The actual job of rounding up volunteers was done by three young "labor captains." They arranged the schedules so that crews would be available when needed.

One of the special features of the building is the use of porcelain tile, of which more than 15,000 pieces are used.

The Challenge Stamping and Porcelain Co. furnished the steel for the tile at less than cost, and also permitted the use of its facilities for the manufacturing.

Members of the Reformed and Christian Reformed churches, employed at the plant, worked overtime on Saturdays for free to turn out the tile. Other plant employees, although not members of the six churches, also assisted. "We just want to help," they said.

Jacob Achterhof, a foreman at the Story and Clark Piano Co., has been one of the most tireless workers. He has spent the majority of his evenings and Saturdays at the school since last September, putting in many more than 300 hours. Mrs. Achterhof also has been there much of the time.

Recently, the tempo of the work has stepped up a lot, as the workers strive to have the building ready for school. Women have joined their husbands in pasting up tile. They also have provided lunches throughout the long work period.

Rycenga sees the work as binding the congregations closer to the school. "If somebody works on something, they have an interest in it," he says. "This is something they can say they have done, for all the rest of their lives."

Now the workers have an additional project. The footings are in for a combination gymnasium-auditorium to be built as a south-west wing to the school.

The volunteers plan on building that themselves, too—maybe by the time another school year rolls around.

The National Geographic Society says the New England sturgeon catch fell from 29,000 to 5,000 pounds between 1919 and 1935.

Elroy Krebs of Escanaba visited with relatives several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Beauchamp left Tuesday for their home in Lubbock, Tex., after a week's visit with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Foster and children of Fennville, Mich., spent Monday and Tuesday visiting at the Leo Beauchamp home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lenwood Kell of Menominee visited with relatives and friends here Sunday.

Home Economics Department Has Fine Exhibits

The home economics department, with various sections filled with a fine array of exhibits, is attracting the attention of many visitors to the Upper Peninsula State Fair. Miss Dorothy Erler of Marquette is the superintendent of the department.

Food and canning entries are of especially high standard, reports Mrs. Sam Watson, Kingsford, who is in charge of this section.

The needlework section with Mrs. I. R. Nelson of Bark River as its superintendent, has about 125 entries including quilts, spreads, crocheted spreads, machine work and tailored pieces. There is also the largest display of textile painting ever entered at the fair. Rugs, braided, crochet and various other types, with many lovely knit sweaters, socks, baby sets etc. Mrs. Nelson said that the quality of everything this year is much higher than it has ever been and believes that the home extension classes have been a big factor in this improvement. The re-modeling section also displays children's wear made from second hand pieces. Very cleverly tailored and matched.

Needlework and crocheted pieces show a trend toward more of the plain, white work.

Other department heads are: Miss Ingrid Tervonen, Escanaba, Miss Ella Elvin, L'Anse, Miss Bernice LaFrenier, Sault Ste. Marie, Miss Irma Saven, Marquette, Mrs. Sam Watson, Kingsford, Mrs. Ray Peterson, Spalding, Mrs. I. R. Nelson, Bark River, Mrs. William Olson, Gladstone, and Mrs. Wendell Sandan, Stephenson.

Painting Displayed By Prof. Gooch At U. P. State Fair

A painting by Prof. Donald Gooch of the University of Michigan, made at the Upper Peninsula State Fair, is on display in the art exhibit at the fairgrounds. Mrs. Alice Powers, art superintendent, has announced.

Prof. Gooch was the judge of the art exhibits and directed a sketching class at the fair. He painted a scene of the fair midway.

Tuesday—"Girl on Beach", Jack Caldwell, Marquette.

Wednesday—"Still life by Dorothy Olsen, Marquette.

Thursday—"Pine and Water", Mrs. Charles Begold, Marquette.

Friday—"Ducks", Rosalie Kiss, Marquette.

Saturday—"Flowers, Alice Powers, Escanaba.

Sunday—"Still life by Mrs. Stack Smith, Escanaba.

Low Grade Ore Will Be Mined

Announcement Made By CCI Company

ISHPEMING—Officials of the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co. today announced the company's intention to start the first commercial-scale mining and concentrating of low-grade ore on the Marquette range.

The low-grade ore will be mined from the Ohio mine, located two miles west of Michigamme in Baraga county, the company revealed. It is making plans for re-opening the mine, closed since 1920.

"Exploration of this low-grade deposit has been undertaken during the past few years, with a small reserve being developed," the company stated.

The ore will be mined by open-pit methods and treated in a small density concentrating plant.

"It is hoped some production can be obtained late this year, with full-scale operations starting in 1952," the company said.

CCI said it also plans to mine and concentrate low-grade ore from the Webster mine, owned jointly by Cleveland-Cliffs and the Pickands Mather & Co. This will be done in conjunction with the Ohio property mining.

Clip Joints Bring Much Discredit To State Fair

RUTHLESS gambling games on the midway of the Upper Peninsula State Fair should be stopped at once. The operators of these clip joints should be told that they need not come back in the future.

The Press long has been genuinely interested in the welfare and growth of the Upper Peninsula State Fair. Each year this newspaper goes all out in publicizing the fair for it feels it is a worthwhile educational institution.

The 1951 program is one of the best in the state fair's history. The exhibits of 4-H club work, livestock, vegetables and other agricultural products are outstanding. The Barnes-Carruthers night show is one of the finest productions ever staged here. Each day the state fair has presented a high grade program. To visit the fair is a source of much enjoyment for young and old.

But the gyp artists, who have been operating on the midway this week, bring much discredit to a highly regarded Upper Peninsula institution. Teen-age youths have been bilked out of their summer earnings. Some rural families have lost a goodly share of the premium money they have won with exhibits at the fair.

It is true that the gamblers have returned some of the money they have taken from youngsters after they were reported to the authorities. But they have been allowed to continue their illegal operations.

The Upper Peninsula State Fair would be a cleaner and better exposition without the gyp artists. The money these gamblers pay for concession space on the midway is money that the state fair can well do without.

All that is needed to give the Upper Peninsula a 100 per cent fair is the elimination of gyp joints on the midway. Let's make it a better fair next year.

Senator Taft Shows Real Stewardship

SENATOR TAIT'S support of the military part of the foreign aid program will undoubtedly go far to assure approval of arms assistance by Congress without major change.

With the Russian threat in no real sense diminished, this is a heartening development. Relaxation of Western rearmament is a prime Soviet goal right now. Taft apparently understands this and appreciates the risk involved in cutting military aid while Russia still strikes an aggressive posture.

And whether this be his intent or not, the fact is that Taft's backing of full arms help to Europe will tend to cut the ground from under any who might charge that the senator sought to handicap his political rival, General Eisenhower, in carrying out his mission as European commander.

Taft is apparently bent on seeing that Eisenhower gets everything he needs—at least from the United States. His move represents a sober appraisal of the world situation. And if the 1952 campaign entered his thinking, he has also taken a fair-minded political approach.

UPPER PENINSULA FAIR (Sault Ste. Marie News)

From August 14 to the 19th the annual Upper Peninsula State Fair will be held in Escanaba. There will be important exhibits that will show progress and a queen will be crowned.

Fairs are useful institutions. When it was decided to have a state fair in the Upper Peninsula a step was taken that has brought the two peninsulas closer together. There is cooperation between the two state fairs, the one at Detroit and the one at Escanaba that has planted seeds for more pleasant relations throughout Michigan. There are citizens who think there should be much more of this sort of comingling that will be of benefit to all.

Fairs symbolize accomplishment so they should continue to flourish. Every county in the Northern Peninsula can take an increasingly greater interest in this state fair and help make it grow so that there can be greater knowledge of what is going on as well as improved entertainment.

The secretary-manager this year is John MacInnis, of Chippewa county. He has worked hard to make the fair a success and deserves the assistance of all his friends and neighbors.

Questions and Answers

Q—Who composed the patriotic song "The Blue and the Gray"?

A—This song was written by Francis Miles Finch, and delivered before a reunion of the Army of the Potomac. It was inspired by the fact that the women of Columbus, Miss., strewed flowers on the graves of Confederate and Union soldiers alike. It was published in the Atlantic Monthly in September, 1867.

Q—Why is mistletoe bad for a tree?

A—The mistletoe plant fastens itself up on the tree, penetrates its tissues, and draws nourishment from it, deforming it and sapping its vitality.

Q—What was the value of the coin called the "Brasher doubloon"?

A—The face value of the doubloon was that of the Spanish doubloon, about $16.

Q—Who would preside over the Senate at the trial of an impeached president?

A—The Constitution decrees that when a president is tried the chief justice of the United States shall preside.

Q—Can holly be used for a hedge?

A—It is often used, as it bears clipping well.

Q—Did Harry Lauder ever work in the coal mines?

A—As a young man he worked in the coal mines, but he had a natural talent as an entertainer that led him to choose the stage as a profession.

Merry-Go-Round

(Editor's Note—During Drew Pearson's absence in Europe, his staff will contribute an occasional column from Washington.)

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — For some time we have been itching to have the boss get out of town so we could write what we want. Particularly, we have wanted to pay our respects to one Westbrook Pegler and other venom peddlers.

The boss takes the position that he is paid by his papers to cover Washington. Not write about other newspapermen. They're not important enough and people would get bored if he wrote about Pegler. Fulton Lewis, George Sokolsky et al. All you have to do, he says, is to read these gentlemen long enough and they defeat themselves with their own inconsistencies and their own spleen.

That may be true. But we would like to point out that, while the boss is over in Europe spending his own money and beating his brains out trying to float free-world propaganda beyond the Iron Curtain, the Russians don't need any balloons to get propaganda into this country. They have their special stirrer up of hate and distrust—which is always the No. 1 aim of Communist propaganda—in Mr. Pegler.

Pegler's column urging the American people not to buy government bonds is something Moscow would have paid millions for. So also his column on tearing down the White House; and his column rejoicing on the assassination attempt on President Truman.

PEGLER ON ASSASSINATION

"If it takes this to remind us that no president is a holy person, the cost is great but the result is worth it," Pegler wrote on Nov. 17, 1950, after two Puerto Ricans shot the guards in front of Blair House.

"I was shocked, I wasn't horrified, and I believe that most of those who said and wrote that they were, were liars. . . Any man who throws in with traitors and gorillas against the loyal, law-abiding people of the United States is asking for the same kind of treatment. As to Harry Truman, at the present stage of the game, I am willing to settle for the impudence, the scare, and the reminder of the scene at Blair House."

On March 1, 1951, Pegler sent this gem of subversive propaganda straight down Moscow's alley: "Any corporation . . . promoting the purchase of government bonds on the pretense such bonds are good investments is either party to a confidence game or a victim of stupid management. In either case I am not kidded."

"During World War II the treasury implored me to act as a runner for a swindle which it was operating through the sale of bonds. . . The treasury appealed to me to become a partner in crime."

This Pegler recommendation not to back our boys with our dollars was so raw that many newspapers protested and his syndicate finally wired all papers to kill the column. Shortly thereafter, the syndicate, worried about the constant stream of abuse that poured from Pegler's pen, got him to take a vacation.

DESTROY THE WHITE HOUSE

"It ought to be destroyed," Pegler wrote of the White House on March 28, 1950, "being semi-public and an unsuccessful compromise between a museum, or better say a zoo and a national palace."

"It is, from the architectural standpoint, inherently monstrous and unsuitable," Pegler said of the colonial mansion which has been the home of presidents since 1825.

"It is symbolic of royalty and privilege and of the verminous infestation of the American government by traitors, vile opportunists peddling imperial favor and trimming suckers."

The above was not the voice of Moscow trying to tear down a cherished American symbol, but a newspaper columnist well paid for his writings by American publishers.

Here are more interesting Pegler quotes. As the boss says, all you have to do is to read him to see how he destroys his effectiveness with his own words.

About Wendell Willkie, Jan. 12, 1951—"He became an historic oaf to say the best of him, untrue to everything but the cynicism of the traitorous regime."

About Sen. Robert Wagner of New York, Jan. 13, 1951—"An unsightly ugly faker."

Of Margaret Truman, Dec. 15, 1950—"This young woman's career has been a minor scandal."

About U. S. voters, Jan. 24, 1951—"A dumb, selfish electorate whose only thought was sock the rich."

Come Now, Where's That Old Sense Of Fair Play?

Senator Douglas Lived Up To His Billing When He Went To Washington

Editor's Note: Here's the second of two dispatches that give a word clasp of one of the most talked-about men in the U. S. Senate right now—a freshman Senator who's already being discussed as 1952 presidential timber.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — When newly-elected Sen. Paul Douglas showed up to be sworn in at the opening of the 81st Congress, most observers looked at the huge, ungainly, rumped man a little dubiously.

Like so many big Washington entrances before his, the advance notices seemed too good. Nobody could be as smart and as honest as he was being billed. Then, contrary to past experiences with over-ballyhoed rookies, the Douglas batting average started soaring.

The cynics among the press corps were the first Douglas converts. And today there's probably not a single man in Washington who enjoys such unanimous respect of the town's reporters.

First, it turned out he has no press agent. That's unheard of. Then it turned out he actually wrote his own speeches, in ink in a scrawling long-hand on yellow legal sheets—also unheard of. They turned out to be darn good speeches which quickly earned the interest of his colleagues which few first-year men ever do.

It's standard procedure for a new official to declare he'll have no truck with the town's vaunted social life. To the amazement of all, Douglas lived up to his claim and never hit the high-proof paths. He even had the audacity to suggest publicly that if some of his fellow Senators would leave the stuff alone between five and 12, the upper chamber would get more work done.

About that time people outside of Washington began taking notice of this upstart from Chicago.

Douglas had pretty well scotched the pinko label his unsuccessful opponent, Sen. "Curley" Brooks, had tried to pin on him, by winning the election with a 406,000-vote majority.

But he was an avowed and outspoken liberal, and everyone eagerly waited to see what impact he'd have on the Senate that seemed dedicated to keeping cozy with a right-wing trend in the country. He quickly showed them a brand of independent liberalism which they hadn't seen in years.

Although he had strong labor backing in his campaign, he refused to go along with labor's blatant demands for all-out repeal of the Taft-Hartley law. He said there was some good in it. Then he astonished the Senate by making a speech expressing some sympathy for the Southern members' side on the President's civil rights program.

When he voted against an amendment which would have forced a non-segregation restriction in an important housing bill he brought gasps of astonishment from the gallery. He explained that he felt the amendment was not offered in good faith, but to wreck the bill, and therefore he was opposed to it.

About that time he took time off to write about life as a freshman Senator.

"Only the toad beneath the harrow can really feel the sharpness of the prongs. One must live the life of a Senator to know its pains. It is a soul-trying experience after weighing evidence and conflicting claims and interests to be compelled to decide what is best for the people of the United States and then, as one must, to assume full responsibility for that decision. And the strain is intensified by the fact that one is forced to make many such fundamental decisions in the midst of a crushing burden of routine work."

It was largely this fresh, humble attitude that led Democratic state leaders in a poll to elect Douglas as their first choice after Truman for Presidential candidate in 1952.

There are those who say that this poll is the real cause of the growing feud between Truman and Douglas. Douglas insists he feels no real ill will toward the President. Others say the basis for the trouble is Douglas' insistence that the biggest spender isn't necessarily the biggest liberal, which has led to Douglas' budget paring activities.

In the midst of his feud with the President Douglas still goes along with an earlier statement on party loyalty:

"Support one's party in all procedural matters everywhere. Argue substantive programs within party councils in the hope of gaining a majority within the party. But when the chips are down in the Senate, a Senator should vote his profound individual convictions on substantive matters regardless of who is with or against him."

Mexico City Loses Altitude, Cortes Built It On Mudbed

Year by year Mexico City is losing altitude.

Standing high and cool in a great mountain-rimmed basin where Aztec priests once sacrificed human victims to the gods of war, this ancient-modern city of palaces and turbulent memories is slowly sinking into an underground lake bed, the National Geographic Society says.

Thousands of artesian wells pierce the thin crust of solid earth on which the Mexican capital "floats." Beneath is a slippery mush of volcanic ash and water. As the water is pumped up, the soft surface earth goes down. Thus, says engineers, are Mexicans drinking up their own foundations.

Step Down—or Up
While the city sinks—it dropped 14½ inches in the last eight months—some heavy buildings settle even faster. The massive Palace of Fine Arts has sagged some 15 feet below its original level. Yet other structures seem to grow taller. Set on deep pillars, they hold their level while surroundings sag.

The capital now faces a plumbing crisis. Unless emergency measures are taken soon, warned the municipal engineer recently, the main drainage system will reverse its flow.

When Hernando Cortes with "400-foot and 20-horse" rode over the rim of the Valley of Mexico in November of 1519, spread out before his awed conquistadors was the reason for today's impasse. They beheld a plain filled with shining lakes "and many cities and villages built in the water."

This was Tenochtitlan, golden capital of the Aztec Empire, its temples and castles rising on canal-divided islands and linked to mainland by three masonry causeways.

Cortes conquered and razed Tenochtitlan. From its remains he built a new city, imperial seat of New Spain. Near a temple founded with more than 100,000 skulls, he erected a church from the stones of the Aztecs shrines. And as Mexico City pushed outward in the centuries that followed, it grew on filled land, covering the lake and converting it into a subterranean pool of lava clay.

Flowers and Pyramids

Mexico City's center is still the square that Cortes laid out. Originally the Plaza Mayor, it was renamed Plaza de la Constitucion, and is known to all Mexicans as the Zocalo. Here stands the oldest church in North America, "Mexico's St. Peter's," as well as the huge National Palace where ruled Spain's viceroys, the spectacular native leader Iturbide and the ill-fated Emperor Maximilian.

The metropolis spreads today south to the moated gardens of Xochimilco, "The Place Where Flowers Are," and north to San Juan Teotihuacan, where long before the Aztecs came, a forgotten, mysterious race built temples and pyramids with a symbolic art strangely like that of ancient Egypt.

To the west, beyond a broad avenue lined with fashionable shops and modernistic apartment buildings, is Chapultepec, "Grasshopper Hill." Its castle was a military academy when Americans stormed the rocky heights in 1847, and the scene of spendthrift glomour during the reign of Maximilian and Carlota 17 to 20 years later.

Today, sinking though it is, sun-drenched Mexico City is growing faster than ever. Counting 2,230,000 people, it is the North American continent's third largest city as well as its oldest capital.

So They Say

It should be . . . clear why the State Department and its international do-gooders at the United Nations are pushing the (proposed) Covenant on Human Rights toward ratification. It is . . . designed to stifle all criticism of the so-called Fair Deal.—Sen. John W. Bricker (R., O.).

I am making my—if you will excuse the expression—malen voyage.—Gypsy Rose Lee, striptease dancer, on sailing for Europe.

It is plain women—like me—who know about love. The beautiful are usually too busy being fascinating.—Katherine Hepburn, actress.

The United States no longer contains the basis for its own security within its own borders.—Nelson Rockefeller, former assistant Secretary of State.

I haven't known this country without a crisis. The abnormal is our normal.—President Chaim Weizman, of Israel.

Good Evening...

STATE FAIR NOTES—Starting at first glance is the mannikin (or ladykin) occupying the 1870 bed in the Delta County Historical exhibit at the U. P. State Fair.

She wears an old-fashioned nightie, braids, and a mechanical smile that some people interpret as a grimace of pain. Several fair visitors ask the display attendant if "Fanny" is ill.

The mannikin, on loan from an Escanaba store, received her name from Judy Bender, young daughter of Frank Bender, Jr., Soo Hill, president of the Historical Society, who brought the naked dummy home over his shoulder. Judy promptly called the undressed damsel "Fanny" for no appropriate reason.

YOUNGER GENERATION — The bed and dresser, lamps, and many of the other antiques in the Historical Society exhibit are from the home of Mrs. Theodore Farrell, 411 First avenue south.

Mrs. Farrell, descendant of one of Escanaba's pioneer families, was attending the display one day when a small boy came along and began asking questions.

What was that, he asked, in a dish beside the pitcher and bowl on the old-fashioned commode?

Mrs. Farrell explained that it was a bar of soap, and that in the early days people kept water in the pitcher and washed their faces and hands in the bowl. The boy looked at her doubtfully for a moment.

"How can they wash there," he asked, "when there isn't any faucet?"

His question indicates the wide gulf of experience that separate the generations. Older folks knew the day of water in a pail brought from a well, but the younger generation harks back only to an atomic bomb descending on Hiroshima.

OF ANY AGE—Wandering into the art exhibit on the third floor of the exhibition building we turned a corner and encountered another department—the antiques.

Some of the more interesting articles were described by Mrs. Victor Powers, with whom we chatted for a moment.

"This is an old gravy pitcher," she said, indicating a blue and white dish, shaped somewhat like a cream pitcher with two spouts and two handles.

One spout came out near the bottom, for thick gravy, the other near the top, for thin gravy.

"That sounds very modern and functional," we commented, noting that today's gravy is all of one consistency.

There are some of the so-called "old things" that never change because they are basically functional. No one has yet invented a cheerier method of equipping the home with an open fire than the fireplace—one of the oldest forms of heating still found in the newest homes.

THE SAMPLER — Noteworthy as a fair highlight are the small sections removed from the pies, cakes, rolls, breads and other foods exhibited in the home economics department at the fair.

They were removed by the judge, who sampled each entry in arriving at a decision on where to place the ribbons.

Considering the number of exhibits in the food line, the sampling must have started in as a pleasant avocation and ended on a note of satiation. Apparently this was not so, because we overheard some women talking in that department. One of them inquired where the judge was.

"She just finished and went out to lunch," reported the other.

Later we looked for her near the beef cattle barn, where a concessionaire was extolling the virtues of a remedy for gastric upset. Soda, he declared, was not good for gas or they would be using it in automobiles. The foods department judge was not there so we assume she suffered no ill effects from her sampling—tribute to the quality of the products of Upper Peninsula cooks.

Take My Word For It . . . Frank Colby Jr.

WHAT'S THE ORIGIN?

Few people would associate "peculiar," "odd," "eccentric," with picayunish, meaning "petty or paltry"; yet the words are more than kissing cousins.

Identifying private property has long been an important problem among men. In the Latin of ancient Rome pecunia was the word for "money"; peculium meant "private property."

The French borrowed from the Latin peculiaris (from peculiarium) the word peculiar, describing something belonging exclusively to one person or certain persons. Then the English borrowed from the French. By extension we came to use peculiar to mean "odd; eccentric," as it describes a trait or mood belonging exclusively to one person.

Picayunish was born of Colonial days in America, when there was a great scarcity of small coins, such as pence and shillings, and make change usually was difficult, if not impossible. American ingenuity solved the problem by the invention of "cut money," i. e., by cutting the Spanish dollar valued at eight reales (pronounced ray-AHLS) into eight pie-wedge bits with a value of 12½ cents each. This is the origin of our "bit," in such terms as two bits, four bits, etc.

Since the real was only 1/8 of a coin, and valued at 12½ cents, we can well imagine the size of half a real, which, in the Southern United States, came to be called a picayune, a word of Carib origin which came through the French pecune, from the Latin pecunia, "money."

Because of the comparatively insignificant value of the picayune, "and also because of size, the word picayunish evolved in the meaning of "small, mean, petty."

Frank Colby's leaflet, C-11, "Lie-Lay, 'Sit-Set,'" makes these confusing word-pairs as simple as ABC. The non-technical key does the trick. For a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Frank Colby, care of this paper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Sacrificing

You are often told by smarter folks to plan your life ahead, and the future will be something that you never have to dread. If you do the proper planning, you can keep your schedule true, and you'll never have to deviate from things you want to do. But you wonder if the guys who like to give you sage advice, never find, upon arriving home, they have to sacrifice.

You can plan an afternoon of golf or fishing in the sun, or a lot of work around the yard you simply must get done. You can plan an evening with "the boys" to play a game of cards, or an auto ride to see the sights along the boulevards. Yep, you sure can make a lot of plans, but brother, don't you know, that because you crave to do some things, it doesn't make it so?

For you learn that in your scheming, you are not a man alone, since the busy little woman has a blueprint all her own. And in spite of what the wise boys say, your plans are all for naught, for you know you've got to do the things of which your wife has thought. Then you're sure the chap who counsels you that foresight is the thing, is, at home, a second rat too, and not a ruling king

HOW BALLOON MESSAGES CAN PIERCE IRON CURTAIN — Map shows how balloons, loaded with anti-Communist propaganda, information on the Western way of life and instructions on how to listen to Radio Free Europe, located in Munich, are borne on prevailing west-to-east winds (arrows) across the Iron Curtain. Heavy arcs on map show ranges of balloons used. These are of two types—a small, rubber one, similar to those used by the U. S. Weather Bureau, with a range of about 180 miles. Inflated with oxygen, it rises to a height of 15,000 feet, expanding all the time. Eventually in extremely rarified atmosphere, it bursts, discharging its load of leaflets. The other kind, with a range of some 800 miles, is a plastic "pillow" type, much larger. It rises into stratosphere and gradually, by seepage, loses gas to the point where it descends, bounces along the ground until somebody picks it up.

'Get Off My Back' Is No Joke Here

NEW YORK (AP)—Traffic congestion in New York City is causing almost 3,000 read-end collisions each year, 50 deaths, 2,500 injuries and about $1,000,000 in damages.

The figures were compiled by the Greater New York Safety Council, which described the rear-end crash as the "most costly and most easily avoided of traffic accidents."

The council warns motorists that with continued gains in traffic volume a proportionate degree of care should be exercised to maintain safe distances between vehicles.

Laakso - Maki
CHATHAM—Miss Arlene Laakso, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Ylvi of Chatham became the bride of Bernhart Maki, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Maki of Eben Junction, Mich. Aug. 5 in a ceremony performed by the Rev. De Vries at his home in Marquette.

The bride, who was graduated from Rock River Township High school this spring, was attended by two of her classmates, Miss Violet Hallstrom and Miss Svornika Salmi. Groomsmen were Wilbert Maki, brother of the groom, and Raymond Niemi of Forest Lake.

The bride wore a navy gabardine suit with navy and white accessories and a corsage of red roses. Miss Hallstrom wore a navy and white checked suit with white accessories and a yellow rose corsage, while Miss Salmi wore a navy suit with white accessories and a yellow rose corsage.

In the afternoon and evening, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride and groom cut the wedding cake, which was served to guests by Miss Mayme Maki of Detroit, sister of the groom. Mrs. Harold Antilla, aunt of the bride and Mrs. Edwin Seppi of Marquette, sister of the bride were in charge of refreshments, which were served from a table prettily decorated with garden flowers.

Out-of-town guests at the reception were Miss Olga Hakkinen of Seattle, Wash., Miss Mayme Maki, Highland Park, Mich., Allen Wamsley of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Matt Priuska of Negaunee.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Maki attended Rock River High school at Eben. They will live in Eben.

Chatham Boy Injured
Ronald Smith, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith of Chatham, was injured Saturday Aug. 11, when the bicycle he was riding struck a car on Highway M-94 about 3-10 of a mile south of Chatham. Ronald suffered lacerations on the back and legs when he rode his bicycle out of a driveway on the highway and struck a car driven by Toivo Luoma, 25, of Chatham. The impact threw the bicycle into the ditch. Ronald was treated by the family doctor at the Smith residence.

The Rhinebeck

A Well-Planned, Seven Room House With Ample Closet Space

Rooms Seven
Bedrooms Four
Closets Ten
Cubage 18,500
Dimensions 33' x 24'

In addition to a spacious living room, with a large fireplace and built-in book shelves, "The Rhinebeck" contains a dining room with a built-in china closet, a combination kitchen and breakfast nook, two first floor bedrooms and two upstairs bedrooms, complete with built-in drawers.

Shed Dormer
A shed dormer across the back of the house makes "The Rhinebeck" seem larger than it actually is; it also makes possible the double windows in the rear walls of the upstairs bedrooms and a full window in the bathroom.

Entering through the front door, you find yourself in a good sized entrance hall with stairs to the second floor in the opposite wall. The floor to the living room is placed just to the left of the stairway. There is a large coat closet in the left wall of the entry hall, while directly across the hall from this closet is the doorway to the front bedroom.

Measuring 17' x 12', the living room is well lighted by double windows in the front wall and the small casement windows flanking the fireplace in the side wall. A door in the right corner of the back living room wall opens into the central hallway connecting with the kitchen, lavette, cellar stairs and two bedrooms. There is ample wall space in the living room for the attractive arrangement of large furniture pieces.

There is a large china closet built into a corner of the 12' x 8' dining room. Two windows provide ample light and good cross ventilation in this room. A swinging door connects the dining room with the kitchen.

The compact dining alcove and kitchen measures 11' x 8' 6" and is located on the right, between the swinging door and the door to the hall.

Shaped Work Counter
An L-shaped counter, complete with overhead cupboards, extends from the swinging door to the back door. Beneath the window in the back wall is an excellent location for the sink.

There is a small work counter, with drawers underneath it, in the right front corner of the kitchen. Next to this counter would make an excellent place to connect the stove, while the refrigerator should be placed beside the refrigerator to save the housewife's steps when she's preparing meals. A broom closet is conveniently located in this side wall, next to the back door.

The other door in the kitchen opens into the hall, directly opposite the living room door. Continuing further down the L-shaped hall, you find the cellar stairs on the right and the lavette on the left. At the end of the hall is the back bedroom which can be converted into a den if you so desire. Containing two windows, the room measures 12' x 8' and has a closet in the center of the front wall.

At the turn of the hall is the linen closet which is located conveniently near to both bedrooms and the lavette.

With double windows on the front wall and a single window on the side the front bedroom receives good light and cross ventilation. A closet is placed in the corner of the back wall of this room which is 13' x 12'. The room has ample wall space for the arrangement of large furniture pieces.

On the second floor is a small hall leading to a bedroom at either end. The bathroom is placed opposite the stairs, a linen closet in between the stairs and the floor to the master bedroom at the left.

The large master bedroom 14'6" x 12'6", boasts two huge closets, one on the back outside wall and the other on the front inside wall. This room has two sets of built-in drawers while double windows in the back and side wall provide ample light and ventilation.

Measuring 12'6" x 11'6" the second bedroom has a single closet on the back outside wall, a set of built-in drawers on the front wall and, like the master bedroom, double windows on the back and side walls.

Measuring only 33' x 24', the house has a cubic footage of 18,500.

500 feet. A 50' minimum lot would be required.

Because complete living facilities are provided on the first floor of "The Rhinebeck," it won't be necessary to finish the second floor until you want this space. If you plan to use only the first floor, at first you can have the closet in the lavette or converted into a shower stall.

Plans Available

Complete plans and specifications for "The Rhinebeck", or any other home in this series, can be obtained at moderate cost. To ascertain the exact price of these documents, write to the Home Building Editor, Dept. 15, Daily Press and enclose a self-addressed envelope bearing a three cent stamp. At least one week should be allowed for a reply.

ARTIST DOES PORTRAIT—Robert A. Herzberg, talented artist who has painted many famous personalities throughout the United States, is shown doing a color portrait in pastels, of Elizabeth Halverson of Marquette. He is well-known for his excitingly colorful circus pictures done at the Ringling Brothers winter quarters at Sarasota.

Artist Herzberg Paints Portraits On Fair Midway

Robert A. Herzberg, who has been entertaining the crowds at the Upper Peninsula State Fair since it opened on Tuesday doing portraits of various people, began his career in 1907.

A student at the Art Institute in Chicago, Herzberg studied there for four years and had as classmates such well known artists as Norman Rockwell and Thomas Benton.

Teachers at the institute, under whom he studied, were Alphonse Mucha and Vanderpoole. From 1911 to 1914, Herzberg studied at the Art Students League in New York, later moving to Detroit where he was owner and artist in his own Art school. He lived there for 12 years.

He has had many "one man shows" in various parts of the country including New York and Detroit. He has painted famous personalities such as Frank Murphy, Homer Ferguson, Gloria Swanson, John Bokes, Mary Pickford, Buddy Rogers and many others.

Herzberg has been visiting with his daughter, Mrs. Carl Honkonen, in Iron Mountain. During the winter months he lives in Florida and has, for many years, painted Ringling and Barnum and Bailey circus pictures at Sarasota, the winter headquarters of the circus.

He is a member of the Artists Equity Association and in 1949 painted "Miss America" at the pageant at Atlantic City.

Grand Champions Lead Awards In Striking Gladiolus Show

Mrs. Fred Fisher, of 1306 Eleventh avenue south, Escanaba, with her Red Charm gladiolus entry, 12-year old Joe Stier of Escanaba Route One, who had the miniature entry and Berg Brothers of Brampton with their Bit of Heaven, won the Grand Champion awards in the Gladiolus Show which opened Friday at the Upper Peninsula State Fair.

The display of gladiolus, strikingly beautiful in its color and arrangement in green containers with cedar against an all-white background, replaced the Floriculture exhibit which closed Thursday. It is in the same location on the pyramid stands in the fore part of the main exhibition building.

The exhibit is under the direction of Mrs. J. E. Byrns, superintendent, and Mrs. Lora Van Wagner of Iron River, assistant superintendent. Assisting them as clerks were Mrs. C. N. DeGroodt of Escanaba and Mrs. Ray Casimir of Spling.

G. E. Beck of the floriculture department of the University of Wisconsin and Mrs. Al Olson, widely known Upper Peninsula gladiolus grower, were judges.

Special Arrangements—Special awards also were won by Mrs. Adolph Johnson of Escanaba, longest flower head; Mrs. Marion Verbisky of Carney, largest individual flower; Mrs. W. P. Dimmock, Escanaba, most open; young Mr. Stier smallest flower.

Mrs. Fisher's entry and the Picardy entry of Arvid Lopell of Foster City won the section championship; Mrs. Fisher, the division championship; Joseph, the junior amateur in section and division and Harry D. Brackett of Escanaba, with a Phantom Beauty entry, the division and section two spike open.

Margery Snyder of Escanaba, Ray Casimir of Spling, Mrs. Tom Hughes of Escanaba, Mrs. Adolph Johnson, Escanaba and Mrs. A. A. Dimmock, Escanaba, received ribbons for their effective display of gladiolus in vases and other containers. One of the loveliest of these is all white gladiolus in a low white container with loops of white satin ribbon, arranged by Mrs. Snyder.

Artistic and striking arrangements by Mrs. Hughes included a combination of soft grey driftwood of graceful twisted shape with a deep salmon shade of gladiolus and a tiny purple stock-like flower, and a modernistic container in which yellow flowers, tiny cat tails and ivory are combined.

Junior Amateur—In the junior amateur division in which 4-H club growers competed, awards went to Joseph Stier, Roger Jenshak, Escanaba, Route One, Susan Schette of Carney, Angeline Rivard of Daggett and Joan Chelkieski of Carney.

Amateur winners included Mrs. Ernest Zeno of Escanaba, Rev. F. Dobratz of Powers, Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. A. Victorson, Mrs. Marion Verbisky of Carney, Harry Brackett, Escanaba, whose entries were outstanding, Howard Rasmussen, Escanaba, Mrs. O. Shraeta Escanaba, Mrs. E. Stendahl, Escanaba, Arvid Lysell of Foster City and Mrs. Dimmock.

Awards in the three-spike open division were Mrs. Ernest Zeno, Escanaba; Ray Casimir, Spling; Berg Brothers of Brampton; and Harry Brackett. In the entries of more than three the prize winners were Harry Brackett; Howard Rasmussen, Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. Verbisky, Father Dobratz and William T. Karas of Escanaba Junior amateur awards went to Roger Jenshak, Joseph Stier and Susan Shelter. Awards for odd colors were given the entries of Father Dobratz and Mrs. Verbisky.

Nine Awards—Berg Brothers of Brampton took nine awards in the one spike color class and Ray Casimir of Spling, two. The award for a seedling entry in recent introductions went to Mr. Casimir.

The show this year was smaller than last because of the slow growing season and the fact that gladiolus shows in other centers conflicted with the date of the U. P. Fair show, but the entries were of a higher quality evidencing the sincere interest of the gladiolus growers in their product.

Father Sheridan Retreat Master—Father John Sheridan of Notre Dame will be the retreat master at Marygrove, Garden, for August 24, 25, and 26. He requests that reservations be in by August 21.

Hermansville—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Posig and son Tommy of Milwaukee and Mr. and Mrs. Loren Price and Nick Posig of South Milwaukee visited at the Frank Posig home recently. Mrs. Frank Posig and son remained here for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moreau and daughter Ann Louise recently attended the wedding of their son, Arthur, Jr., which was held in Two Rivers, Wis.

Mrs. Anna Mattson and daughter Gertrude left for Battle Creek, enroute to Detroit, where Miss Mattson will attend a district presidents' meeting of the MEA to be held at St. Mary's Lake Camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Schultz of Milwaukee returned following a week vacation spent at the Arthur Moreau, sr. home.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Bugni of Iron River spent Wednesday visiting at the home of Mr. Bugni's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rodman, sr.

Mrs. Harry Freese and children of Chicago are visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin L. Sutherland, sr.

Parents of Daughter—Mr. and Mrs. Willard Mattson of Detroit are the parents of a girl, Patricia Marie, born on August 14 and weighing 9 pounds, 2 ounces. Mr. Mattson is the son of Mrs. Anna Mattson of this city.

Lions Club Monday—The Hermansville Lions Club will hold a dinner meeting Monday, August 20, beginning at 7:05 p. m. at the Menominee Hotel.

LUDINGTON BUY-LINES

by Sue Donimus

OLD draperies seldom dye, they just fade away. This is one of many problems you can solve by installing Zephyr all season awnings at your house. The handsome custom designed awnings are made of either California redwood or metal and are scientifically ventilated. Their smart, modern appearance improves the realty value of your home, and you leave them up the year around. Right now Provo Sign Service has a real deal on Zephyr doorhoods—it's a new low price: a 48 inch wide doorhood in redwood, only $35; metal, $37.50—plus small installation charge. It will shelter your entrance from rain or snow and be an enticing welcome sign to your friends. One thing about awnings, no matter how high you hang them they're still only a shade above the ground!

ROUGH riding on those old curdury roads—but your road to college will be a smoothie when you promenade on the curdury avenue to success. Soft, luscious pinwale cords are sweeping the slick fashion mags for campus coeds. That's why I know you'll be glad to hear that Lee's Style Shop can be your highway to happiness no matter what kind of curdury outfit you have in mind. I looked over their darling new dresses today—found both short and three quarter length sleeves; most every color, bright or dark; contrasting belts and buttons; and clever styling. Also a nice selection of skirts, jackets and slacks. Better hit the trail for Lee's!

ONE chorus girl about another: "She's sort of old fashioned—she still thinks a million dollars is a lot of money!" I'm here to tell you that Aluminum Shade Screening looks like a million dollars and there's not an old fashioned thing about it. It's the modern screen invention that looks like a tiny venetian blind. And it is designed to keep out pests better than any back stage doorman! What's more, it shades as well as screens; need no painting; and gives better visibility from the inside than outdoors, giving you a measure of privacy. At Erickson Millwork you can see a sample of this modern miracle in screening.

I CAN remember when a fellow's lack of punished him for low grades—now Uncle Sam's taken over—he drafts you! That first day of school has problems for any age, but make sure you don't get a black eye for the lack of the right materials. The Office Service Co. is the center for back-to-school supplies. I had lots of fun snooping around among the elegant leather notebooks, fountain pens and pencils, crayons, rulers and reams of paper. Even a Russian student was heard to remark, "I Moscow to OSCO before school begins!"

RIDDLE: What's sold by the yard and worn out by the foot?—Give up?—A carpet! They sell them by the yard down at Petersen's Furniture Store, but believe me that Mohawk and Alexander Smith carpeting is mighty hard to wear out! Petersen's have an especially fine selection right now in 12 ft. width carpeting. The popular decorator shades, gray, rose, greens, are available in plain or tone-on-tone shades. Be sure to look at the all wool, 12 ft. selections now priced at only $9.95 a sq. yd. I personally inspected the cinnamon, gray and green carpets and pronounce them a masterpiece of color scheming. When you get to the bottom of things in interior decorating, your best basis for home beauty is quality carpeting from Petersen's!

SHOE salesman: "There's a girl who has suffered a lot for her belief." Me: "Yes? What's her belief?" Salesman: "That she can wear a size 4 shoe!" She should try the new school shoes at Ward's—flatteringly small in appearance, but lots of toe room in the classy brown loafers with the glossy moccasin toe. Priced at only $4.95, this is just one of many attractive styles that include saddle shoes, loafers and ties in brown, red, russet and ivory. Come on in to Ward's and let them shoe you right out of the store!

YOUR serve! And you show how well you understand the racket when you do your hostessing with Nash Tole Trays from Eden's Gift Shop. Tole trays are made of metal and finished with a soft, dull enameled surface. At Eden's I saw a set of 4 individual serving trays in lovely pastel colors, and another smaller set of round canape trays featuring bold and simple fruit designs. Most breath taking are the huge antique white or dark green trays that fit on to a collapsible stand (optional) to make a coffee table. The filigree border and splashy hand painted flowers are unique. Tole trays plus a smart hostess—net result: a perfect match!

WHEN junior takes a tumble the fall leaves him with a scar. And speaking of fall leaves—have you seen the gay fall leaves that edge the new note paper at the Photo Art Shop? Other clever notes sport a tumbling black bear or flashy flowers. Priced from a tiny 50c. The Photo Art Shop also has a fine supply of the new round handkerchiefs that travel in the best circles! Gay prints or pale pastels with intricate fagoting also priced from 50c.

The W. C. T. U. will meet Wednesday afternoon, August 22, at 2:30 on the lawn of the Mission Covenant church in Gladstone. Following a program and business meeting the Gladstone group will serve lunch. Members and friends are invited.

Social Situations

You wonder how old a newly made acquaintance is.

WRONG: Ask her how old she is.

RIGHT: Don't ask personal questions. If she doesn't mind telling her age, she'll probably mention it of her own accord some day.

It's easy to improvise a jelly-bag holder for straining fruit or berries if you have a pair of embroidery hoops. Simply catch the top edge of the bag between the two hoops.

Choose Child's Footwear With Care

Properly-chosen summer shoes provide for these active children a sound foundation for health and good looks later on. Rubber-soled tennis shoes (left), fine for sports, are discarded by wise young man (center) for everyday play wear in favor of lightweight oxfords. Girl (right) chooses cool mesh-and-leather oxfords for vacation-time.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

A sound foundation is quite as necessary to the building of good looks as it is to any other sort of construction.

Few parents would quarrel with this. Yet many unknowingly undermine their children's future appearance by poor choice of shoes for their youngsters.

Particularly is this true in summer, when mothers and fathers tend to relax the rigid rules they enforced during the school term.

A bit of indulgence during vacation is fine, provided this yielding to small-fry whims and tastes does not endanger a child's health and happiness. It's for adults to judge whether what's fun is also what's best.

Sometimes compromise is necessary. If you're a miniature cowboy in your home—and most folk have these days—your little range rider may consider the possession of fancy boots the height of happiness.

You, looking at high tops, high heels and narrow toes of boots, may consider them somewhat less than desirable.

If you turn down boots as too hot for summer and too unnatural shaped to follow the contours of a growing young foot, you can still make your cowboy happy with Western footwear. Sturdy leather-soled buckle strap-oxfords are available which offer enough tooling and saddle details to satisfy most small gun-brandishers.

Sneakers or low-cut tennis shoes are also favored by many boys for summer wear, possibly because they are prepared at a moment's notice, without shoe changes, to go into action on court- or diamond.

It's a mistake, however, for parents to encourage young athletes in this bit of laziness. Rubber soles and non-arch-supporting canvas are not your best bet for growing feet when they're worn for prolonged periods of time. It's a good idea to teach your child to regard them as special sports equipment, just as he does his bats and rackets.

A good choice for your son's play-hours are the substantially-built but light oxfords with good quality leather uppers and soles which allow his feet to "breathe" through their pores. Unlined shoes are best for summer.

For girls and small boys, sandals offer summer coolness. Even when purchasing this type shoe, however, parents should check to make certain there is sufficient support. In too-bare sandals, foot-support is often lacking.

Lightweight oxfords may fill your daughter's summer shoe needs. Those with mesh insets are particularly cool. Oxfords provide excellent protection for the feet of children who are particularly active or for those whose holidays will be spent in rough terrain.

Unless your shoe budget is rather generous, shoe experts discourage the purchase of "best" shoes. They point out that such shoes are often outgrown before they are worn out, and some parents make the error of insisting that these foot-squeezers not be discarded until their youngsters have gotten the money's worth out of them.

Cancel Shrine Day Because Ahmed Band Was Not Notified
The Shrine Day program in Manistique tonight was cancelled because several members of the Ahmed Temple Shrine band had not been notified of their scheduled appearance here, it was announced yesterday by Fred H. Hahne, general chairman.

"Although the local program was planned several weeks ago someone at Marquette had failed to advise all members of the band," he said. "Members of the band reside in various Upper Peninsula communities. We didn't learn this until early yesterday and felt that it was too late then to get the band together," Hahne stated. "Rather than put on a program with only part of the band present we felt it was advisable to cancel the entire event. We will probably have it next year."

Emergency Stockpile Of Copper Tapped In Defense Production

WASHINGTON — (P) — The nation's emergency stockpile of copper is being tapped for 25,000 tons of the scarce metal to meet defense production needs.

Mobilization Chief Charles E. Wilson announced the move today. He said President Truman had authorized loans of the strategic metal from the stockpile to overcome defense industries' current copper shortage.

About 10,000 tons of the 25,000 earmarked for release already have been transferred.

Stockpiles of key metals and other materials are maintained by the government as emergency stores for defense needs and are usually kept intact for some national crisis.

Clinic Held On Water Festival

Mistakes Aired At Committee Session

A clinic on the recent VFW water festival was conducted by members of the festival committee following a dinner Thursday evening at Arrowhead Inn.

All phases of the festival were explored, including planning work preceding the event, in an effort to find out mistakes made and to offer solutions for them.

A list of recommendations was prepared as a guide for next year's festival committee. Everett Anderson festival chairman, who presided at the session, reported that work on the 1952 water event would be started in January. It was suggested that the festival be held again during the second week of August.

A preliminary financial report submitted at the meeting revealed that expenses of the festival will total about $1,000 and income about $1,200.

Briefly Told

Nurses Club — The Manistique nurses club will meet Monday evening at 6:30 for a pot luck picnic at Alee Creighton's cottage. A good attendance is desired.

Troop Meeting — Boy Scouts of troop 462 will hold their regular meeting at 7 p. m. Tuesday. A corn roast will be featured, and each boy is requested to bring his own corn.

Another Painting Bee — The Schoolcraft County Sportsmen's club will hold another painting session at the club building Monday evening, starting at 6. Members are asked to bring their paint brushes. Refreshments will be served later.

Fine Catch — A party of five from the Ramsden cottages, Thunder Lake, made a catch of 130 pounds of lake trout in Lake Superior, near Munising, Thursday. The largest fish caught weighed 28 and one-half pounds. The catch was reported to be the largest made from any boat in the Munising fleet this season. The group fished from a boat owned by Phil Van Landschoot, of Munising.

Plan Improved ABA Service

To Make Shipments
Five Days Weekly

An improvement in ABA service to members in Schoolcraft and Alger counties will result from recent meetings with A. C. Baltzer, secretary - treasurer of the Michigan Artificial Breeders association.

ABA groups in the two counties met with Baltzer in late July to discuss ways and means of improving service, it was reported yesterday by Clayton D. Reid, county agricultural agent.

As a result of the sessions, Reid said, semen will be shipped five days weekly instead of three to the two local associations as well as to other ABA groups in the Upper Peninsula.

Shipments will be received daily from Tuesday to Saturday.

Reid also reported that Red Danish and Angus semen will be sent to any U. P. counties where such shipments would increase ABA membership or activity. Red Danish and Angus shipments will be made only three times a week because of the limited quantity of semen available.

Ted Fritsch, field goal specialist who is starting his tenth year with the Green Bay Packers, swung a mean bat this season for the Manitowish baseball club of the Northern State league. . . . He pounded the ball at a fat 479 clip. . . . And Clayton Tonnemaker, former Minnesota great who starred at center last season with the Packers has passed his officer candidate examination and is slated for a second lieutenant commission in the army.

The Tri-County Baseball league schedule has three more weeks to run before playoffs begin. . . . Following games tomorrow, two more weeks will be eaten up before the four-team sudden death elimination. . . . Then will follow a best two of three series for the championship. . . . If the series goes three games, the football season will already be half over. . . . By that date, Sept. 30, the Eskymos will have played Soo, Ironwood, Norway and Menominee. . . . It's obvious the baseball season should end long before that.

City Softball Tourney Set To Open Monday

The annual city tournament holds the softball spotlight next week with three games have been scheduled on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights and the finals slated for Thursday evening.

Police Seeking Master Briber

NEW YORK — (AP) — Police throughout the nation today hunted for a Kansas City hoodlum indicted as the master briber of Bradley university basketball players, including one All-American star.

Authorities described their quarry as Joseph Benintende, 41, "a known gunman and very dangerous."

Benintende was named yesterday along with three Bradley cagers and seven other allegedly lesser fixers in six indictments charging bribery and conspiracy.

The Bradley players — All-American Gene (Squeaky) Melchiorre, William K. Mann and George M. Chianakas — were released in $500 bail each yesterday after they pleaded innocent to the charges.

May Put Hal On Disabled List

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — Hal Newhouse of the Detroit Tigers may go on the disabled list.

Manager Red Rolfe indicated as much today after his once ace left-hander found his arm still paining him in a practice warm-up.

Rolfe said he would confer with General Manager Charley Gehringer on the possibility of retiring Hal as "disabled" so that the Tigers could bring up a replacement.

"It doesn't look like Hal can be any use to us the rest of the season," Red said.

Prince Hal, in trouble with his arm since mid-June, hasn't pitched since July 15 when he failed to last two innings against Washington. His last six victories was over the Chicago White Sox July 4-6-3. He has six defeats.

The Tigers are paying Newhouse a reported $42,000 a year.

The Tigers are believed to be thinking of calling Wayne McLeland up from the Toledo Mudhens of the American Association. McLeland has a 4-14 record with the seventh-place Mud Hens but he has looked good.

Collegiate All-Stars Take 33-0 Pasting From Browns

CHICAGO — (AP) — Word was out that old age was seeping into the marrow of the Cleveland Browns and the 1951 National football league season would see them knocked from the pinnacle.

All that has been revised today.

The Browns are still the team to beat. They're a long way from being turned out to pasture.

92,180 Attend

With the gusto and vigor of college kids, the amazing Browns sandbagged the collegiate All-stars 33-0 last night to open the football season officially before 92,180 fans in Soldier field.

An estimated 50 million more saw the game on television. Gross receipts amounted to $428,000, including video and radio rights, for the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.

The Browns' ridiculously easy triumph over an inept bunch of graduated campus stars who never came within 45 yards of the goal line gave the Cleveland Jugernaut a grand slam in pro football.

For four years Coach Paul Brown's marvels won the All-American conference championship. When the league was dissolved, the team hooked up with the NFL last year, and without flinching in the so-called faster company, went on to down the Los Angeles Rams for the National crown in the December playoff.

Girls Softball Series To Open First Game Slated Sunday Afternoon

The girls softball tournament opens tomorrow afternoon with the city title at stake when Tim & Sally's meets Delta Hardware in the first game of a best two of three series.

Tim & Sally's will be defending their crown won last year. They beat the Hardware 3-2 in the semi-finals. The two teams were the only girls clubs in the city this season. Early in the season the Deltas posted an 8-22 win over the defending champs.

The Delta Hardware enters the tourney with the best record, five wins and three losses. T & S has won five and lost five.

Starting Lineups

For Delta Hardware, Coach Roy Jensen will use either Gail Boucher or Marge Hurley on the mound with Barbara Jensen behind the plate. Elaine Niemi will be at first, Agnes Baribeau at second, Beverly Burt at third, Doris Costley at short, and Donna Hurley, Elaine Carlson, Jessie Pierce, Janet Bernard or Marie Koster in the outfield.

Coach Cliff Fraser will send Carol Pilon or Clarann Daley to the hill for Tim & Sally's with Ruby Stoykovich catching. Betty Cox will be on first, Patsy Willette at second, Arlene Koehler at third, Eva Billings at short and Maxine Koehler, Jackie Chartrand and Cheryl McDonough in the outfield.

The game will get under way at 2:30 at Memorial field.

Three Locals In Stock Car Races At Fair Sunday

Three local drivers will be gunning for a piece of the prize money in competition with the best in the country at the U. P. Fair Sunday in a program of late-model stock car sprints.

Local entries are Jerome DeBakker of Escanaba, who will be driving a 1949 Plymouth, Jack Marble of Gladstone in a 1947 Ford and Roy Boersinger of Spaulding, driving a 1950 Plymouth for Odes Fleetwood.

Experienced Drivers

All three are experienced drivers of modified stocks and have been consistent money winners at the Norway races. It will be the first venture for all of them in strictly stock racing, however. Rules prohibit any changes in the interior or exterior of cars racing here Sunday.

Marble is the veteran of the local trio. At 37 he has been driving stocks since the sport was brought to this part of the country about four years ago. The night before last, driving at Rhinelander, he won the feature and one of the heats.

DeBakker has been in stocks for two years and knows his way around the track. Last year he was timed in a shade over one-half minute per lap at the Fair oval, nearly as fast as the big cars toured the track Thursday.

Gray Hands 5-4 Loss To Browns

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — The percentages have finally paid off for the Detroit Tigers' Teddy Gray.

After a long string of setbacks the slight left-hander hung on to beat the St. Louis Browns last night 5-4 and give the Tigers another 2-0 game win streak.

Gray achieved victory against ten defeats by surviving a ninth inning Brown rally which threatened to spoil an otherwise well done job.

Halts Rally

Teddy had pitched shut-out ball, from the second through the eighth, allowing only two men to get on base. He had given three runs in the first.

Going into the last of the ninth, Detroit had a 5-3 lead. Pat Mullin hit a two-run homer in the third and Detroit had picked up one run in the fifth and two more in the sixth.

Gray appeared safe. He retired the first two men and looked "in" for sure.

Pinch-hitters Jack Maguire and Sherm Lollar singled, however, and Bobby Young hit another one-bagger to score Maguire.

With the tying run on second, Gray then forced Jim Delving to ground out to Jerry Priddy.

Carney-Ev's To Tangle Sunday

The Carney Blackhaws and Ev's Bar of Hyde will have one more chance to qualify for the Upper Peninsula championship tournament at Iron Mountain when they meet Sunday night at Memorial Field at 8:30. The Gladstone Lions will face No Names in the preliminary at 7:15.

Carney enters tomorrow night's game with an impressive record, and the Blackhaws will be out to break a tournament jinx which has plagued them for the last three years. They have victories over the Menominee Marathons, Iron Mountain Liberty Loans, and Peshtigo's Badger Mills. They won the Menominee Mid-County league championship, finishing the season undefeated.

Poor Season

Ev's Bar has had a very poor season in league play but the boys from Hyde have the ability to knock off the strongest teams in important games. They have defeated Power & Light twice and Kipling once. Ev's have always been a good tournament team and it will be remembered that they forced Power & Light into extra innings before dropping a 7-6 to decision to the B champions in the district tourney last Sunday.

Tom Brayak will be on the hill for Ev's, and he will be opposed by Pat Moran or Cletus Felch.

Carney-Ev's To Tangle Sunday

The Carney Blackhaws and Ev's Bar of Hyde will have one more chance to qualify for the Upper Peninsula championship tournament at Iron Mountain when they meet Sunday night at Memorial Field at 8:30. The Gladstone Lions will face No Names in the preliminary at 7:15.

Carney enters tomorrow night's game with an impressive record, and the Blackhaws will be out to break a tournament jinx which has plagued them for the last three years. They have victories over the Menominee Marathons, Iron Mountain Liberty Loans, and Peshtigo's Badger Mills. They won the Menominee Mid-County league championship, finishing the season undefeated.

Poor Season

Ev's Bar has had a very poor season in league play but the boys from Hyde have the ability to knock off the strongest teams in important games. They have defeated Power & Light twice and Kipling once. Ev's have always been a good tournament team and it will be remembered that they forced Power & Light into extra innings before dropping a 7-6 to decision to the B champions in the district tourney last Sunday.

Tom Brayak will be on the hill for Ev's, and he will be opposed by Pat Moran or Cletus Fel

Bishop Starts Fast To Begin Race For Presidency In 1952

NEW YORK — (AP) — Bishop Homer A. Tomlinson, self-proclaimed man of God, for president in 1952, says he is sure that "many inspiring prospects and plans will unfold" before him during his pre-presidential campaign fast.

The bishop, General Overseer of the Church of God, said yesterday that he is taking only water, orange juice and black coffee, without sugar, during the 21 day fast. He has 15 more foodless days to go.

After that, he said, he will start a 42-state tour to proclaim his candidacy for president on "a platform of righteousness."

Bishop Tomlinson, 52, said he weighed 182 pounds when his fast started, is now down to 172, and expects to lose 30 pounds in all by the time it is over. He said he is feeling "wonderful."

The golden jubilee of the founding of the Australian Commonwealth is being celebrated in 1951.

Danes Name Defense Chief In Greenland

COPENHAGEN, Denmark — (AP) — Denmark has appointed navy Capt. H. F. Kjoelsen as chief of its Arctic defenses in Greenland, it was announced today.

Capt. Kjoelsen, 58-year-old navy hero and former naval attaché to Danish embassies in Washington, Berlin and Ottawa, will set up headquarters at Groenland, which up to this time has been a U. S. naval base.

Centuries-Old Soil Of Greece Sterilized For Gift To U.S.A.

NEW YORK — (AP) — The pretty displaced person insisted that the soil from her native Greece had been "sterilized by the blood" of the ancient heroes of the battle of Thermopylae.

But the department of agriculture said the soil must be sterilized before entering the United States.

So the centuries-old earth was put in a modern, 20th century pressure cooker yesterday. After 30 minutes, officials said any organic matter it may have contained now was harmless.

The Greek girl, Maria Geroulis brought the soil from Greece as an offering for the tomb of America's unknown soldier.

She dug the earth from the graves of Greeks who died fighting invading Persians 480 years before Christ.

He requested a hearing and on Tuesday, August 14, was arraigned in Justice of the Peace Henry E. Ranzette's court and plead guilty. He was fined $25 and costs.

Two Injured When Auto Crashes Ditch

Two young women were injured, neither seriously, when a car in which they were occupants went off the road and into the ditch along U.S.-24 near Bark River shortly before 9 a. m. today.

The injured are Mrs. William St. Cyr, 19, of Escanaba Rt. 1, and Miss Mary Kasobim, 17, of 523 North 20th street. Both were taken to St. Francis hospital by ambulance for treatment.

Mrs. Kasobim sustained an ankle injury and Miss Kasobim has a leg injury. X-ray examination is being made to determine if there are fractures.

Sheriff's officers said Raymond Sangraw, 22, Manistiquie, driver of the car, said he went off the highway and out of control when faced by an oncoming truck. Other occupants of the car, both unhurt, were Richard Meier, 21, St. Paul, and Shirley Sarasin, 18, Escanaba.

Politics Perks Up As Lansing Lawgivers Meet

called to meet for one day to authorize a $1,600,000 increase in the self-liquidating bonds for building a new state office building. The original authorization was for $4,000,000 but the low bids early this summer totaled $5,600,000.

At the request of the administrative board which wanted to get the building started before the price went higher, Governor Williams called the legislature for what still looks like automatic approval of the increase.

But since the call went out July 31, two other subjects, loaded with far more dynamite, have been opened by Williams for the lawmakers' attention.

They are a proposal to find $2,000,000 for more tuberculosis sanatorium facilities in southeastern Michigan and the tempest over supplying state flags for Michigan servicemen.

The inclusion of these subjects has meant that no one now expects the session to be over in a day. It is more likely to take the whole week.

More than this, the Senate has automatically before it consideration of the confirmation of some 20 appointments the governor has made since the last session.

Money Split Disputed

Clerk Norman E. Phillo of the House and Secretary Fred I. Chase of the Senate report that nearly 100 per cent attendance is expected in both houses, so plenty of oratory and action can be expected.

The question of money for more tuberculosis facilities in the populous Wayne and surrounding counties was pitched into the legislators' laps by the governor at the last minute.

When the legislature adjourned in June, it left $3,000,000 of the hospital bond issue money to be split up among county TB hospitals by the "Little Legislature" on the recommendation of a special committee. The legislature had already earmarked $2,500,000 for a new state TB hospital in Kalamazoo for southwestern Michigan.

The committee met in July and cut the money up among outstate counties entirely, leaving Wayne county in the cold.

A howl went up that Wayne's need for more TB facilities was at least twice as great as any other area in the state. So the committee met again last week to satisfy Wayne county demands for a hearing.

The county got a hearing, all right, but no money. The committee did not ever seriously consider taking some of the $3,000,000 away that had already been allocated outstate.

So Williams acceded to Wayne county demands that the special session be opened to consideration of the problem. The recommended appropriating $2,000,000, out of the deficit-ridden general fund as needed, for an addition to Detroit's Herman Kiefer hospital.

The flag issue is less serious, but

Rain Is Scanty Relief In Texas

DALLAS — (AP) — Some areas of Texas perked up from cooling rains today but generally the state was parched and weary under the load of blistering weeks of 100-degree-plus temperatures.

The death toll from the heat climbed to 31.

Beaumont had an hour-long rain last night, dropping the temperatures from 102 to 70 degrees. There was some damage from lightning and wind. Other points in the coast area had some rain.

Houston had wind squalls up to 60 miles an hour and there was light rain.

In the Panhandle rain fell at Borger. In southeast Texas College Station had .15 of an inch.

But the weather bureau said the thunderstorms were "local."

More forest fires hit powder-dry timber lands in East Texas.

The hottest spot was Denison, which registered 112. Marshall 109.

Latest victims of the heat were John J. Havelka, 46, of Jarrrell; Ronald Lee Johnson, 2, at Athens, and Burnice Delashaw, 54, at Dallas.

It came up after Williams' office answered a request for a Michigan flag by a GI in Japan that there were none available since the legislature had not appropriated money for the purpose.

This outraged Republican secretary of State Fred M. Alger, Jr., a candidate for governor. He filled some similar requests out of his own pocket at $23 per flag.

He told Williams in polite words he was a cheapskate and suggested the legislature, controlled by Republicans, be allowed to consider furnishing flags for Michigan fighting men.

Mushroom Picker, 43, Claims Man Knocked Her Out With Needle

GRAND RAPIDS — (AP) — A woman mushroom picker admitted to police today that her story of being knocked out and slashed by a man armed with a hypodermic needle was false.

Vice squad officer Joseph Zemaitis quoted 43-year-old woman, Mrs. Marion Geogosis, as saying that marks on her body were self-inflicted in an abortive suicide attempt.

The woman earlier had reported she was attacked yesterday while picking mushrooms in a secluded part of John Ball Park.

She claimed the assailant had scratched X's on her nude body with a broken nail file after knocking her out with a hypodermic injection.

Zemaitis said police became suspicious early today when a threatening note and part of the nail file were found in her mail box.

The note was written on paper matching a pad in her home, he said.

Hearst Buried Near His Birthplace At San Francisco, Calif.

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — William Randolph Hearst is laid at rest in a family tomb near the city where he was born 88 years ago.

Hundreds attended his solemn, impressive funeral yesterday at Grace Episcopal Cathedral here atop Nob Hill.

The bronze casket of the late publisher was placed in the tomb with his parents at Cypress Lawn cemetery.

The service was conducted by the Rt. Rev. Karl Morgan Block. He read slowly from the Episcopal office for the burial of the dead. The name of the deceased was not mentioned, nor was there any allusion to the journalistic empire Hearst created or to his widow and five sons.
